

to the south-eastern territories of the empire, muscles are just as important as to the center a well-maintained body is your capital on the meat market, but also a sign of prestige even outside of the beach resorts